SASKATCHEWAN

Information updated December 31, 2020

- Testing is universally available to anyone who requests it, regardless of whether they have symptoms or not.
- The drive-thru testing sites will not require a referral from HealthLine 811 or a family physician or nurse practitioner; however, a valid health card and/or identification will be requested for each person getting tested.
- The drive-thru sites will also be first come, first served so it is likely that anyone wanting to get tested can expect some wait times.
- These drive-thru testing sites are one of the ways the SHA is expanding the options for people to get tested for COVID-19 to reach the testing targets of 4000 tests performed per day.
- Collectively, Regina and Saskatoon account for approximately half of our provincial testing each day.
- Please note there are no public washrooms available at the Drive-Thru Test Sites.
- Please wear a mask while at the site.
